Sunday Herald Sermon By Rev. G. A. Luttrell

The sermon in next Sunday's Herald will be by Rev. G. A. Lut-trell, paster of the Lincoln Road M. E. Church, Lincoln avenue cor-

M. E. Church, Lincoln avenue corner of U street northeast.

Rev. Mr. 'Luttrell was born in Jonesboro, Tenn. He received his early education, however, in the Washington Public Schools, and is a graduate of the Central High School, of this city. He was ordained a minister in 1905. His first charge was in Williamsport, Md., where he remained for four years.

Mr. Luttrell has been pastor of the Lincoln Road M. E. Church for three years, assuming charge when the church was a mere port-able structure. Under his patient guidance the congregation grown more than 60 per cent. The subject of Rev. Mr. Luttrell's sermon, written expressly for the Sunday Washington Herald, will be "America's Great Men; or, "Nails Driven by Masters," taken from the text found in Ecclesiastes XII: "The words of the wise are as goads or as nails driven by masters of assemblies."

Of unusual interest to Washington music lovers, was the recital given yesterday afternoon, at the National Theater, by Edouard Albion, barytone, assisted by Theo Henrion, planist. Mr. Albion is a product of, the French, English and Italian schools of singing and his voice has all the richness, color and depth of the natural barytone, blended with something of the lyric quality of the tenor. His debut in America was made in a transcontinental tour with Tetrassini. His program yesterday, which revealed his original interpretation of the English ballad, the Frenz' declamation, and the Italian lyric, included: "Vision Fusitive," "Herodiade" (Massenet); (a) "Eleanore," (Coleridge - Taylor); (b) "Quaff with Me the Purple Wine," (Shields); (c) "Mother o' Mine," (Tours); (d) "Lorraine, Lorraine, Lorree," (Lohr).
